FAVORING BIMETALLISM

A Memorial to be Presented to the British Parliament.

INTERNATIONAL ACTION NEEDED.

The Document, Which is Being Numerously Signed by Leading English Bankers. Merchants and Manufacturers, Declares the Single Standard a Failure.

LONDON, June 24.-A bimetallic memo rial to parliament has been unantmously signed by numbers of leading bankers, merchants and manufacturers doing busi ness in the east. It first refers to the re cent anti-bimetallic memorial in which it says bimetallism is justly described as a growing agitation It then proceeds to relate that instead of the commercial supremacy of Great Britain and the financial ascendency of London having been established since the change in the currency in 1816, it was achieved before then. Moreover, up to nearly sixty years after 1816 the business of the world was conducted under the dominating influence of the bimetallic system. The experience of recent years has shown that British commercial prosperity during this period was due to the universal effect of the bimetallic law, and not to the operation of our single standard. The memorial proceeds:

"With the abandonment of bimetallism our immense advantages disappeared. The subsequent attempt, for the first time in history, to conduct the business of the western world on a gold basis, was followed by a wide and increasing divergence in the value of gold and silver, which hindered trade, and a progressive fall in prices, which seriously injured industrial undertakings. Contracts have been disturbed, the burden of the debtor increased and property decreased, with a resulting loss of capital embarked in industry and the employment of the working classes. These are matters of grave and serious importance, which should command attention. "In view of the vastness of British commerce the burden of indebtedness borns by the colonies and India, and the fact that there are three distinct systems of currency within the empire, no people in the world are more interested in the establishment of bimetallism than Great Britain, which ought heartly to co-operate with foreign nations in endeavoring to

"The experience of history, the teachings of science and the conclusions of au thority, as expressed by the unanimous report of the gold and silver commission, unite in supporting the opinion that the relative value of the metals could be maintained under bimetallism. The recent statements on behalf of the French govornment, the resolutions of the German | train.

reichstag and the state council of the Prussian diet and the emphatic declaration of the United States in favor of international bimetallism are proofs of their desire to join Great Britain in a serious endeavor to accomplish this end.

"In the presence of the evils which cannot be denied we hope that the government will not suffer a hypothetical danger to special interests or a prophetic but unsupported assertion of harm to industry and commerce to deter them from a hearty co-operation with the other powers in such measures as seem desirable for securing a fixed par of exchange for the two metals and a more stable standard of value than we now possess, and we respectfully ask you to adhere to the resolution of the house of commons passed on Feb. 26. "This motion was introduced in the house of commons by Mr. Robert L. Everett, Liberal member for the Woodbridge division of Suffolk, and was as follows. "That the house regards with increasing apprehension the constant fluctuation and the growing divergence of the values of gold and silver, and heartily concurs in the recent expressions of opinion of the governments of France and Germany in regard to the serious evils arising there-

ceiver for the West Chicago Street Railway company at the Armitage avenue cable barns, was shot and fatally wounded early in the morning by a man who attempted to rob him of the day's receipts. Birch was alone in his office when masked man entered and told him to hold up his hands. Instead of complying Birch reached for his revolver, when the robber fired two shots at him, striking him in the back and arm. Birch then fired, and before dying said he believed he had hit the man. The robber fired three more shots. hitting Birch in the neck and breast, just above the heart. The robber then grabbed a handful of money from the counter and made his escape. In his hurry he scattered silver money about the floor. Birch was removed to a hospital, where he died four

TROLLEY JUMPS THE TRACK.

It Is Smashed to Bits and Two Passengers Fatally Injured.

NEW BEDFOLD, Mass., June 24.-An electric car containing sixty passengers on the Dartmouth and Western railroad jumped the the track about two miles from this city yesterday afternoon, rolling over and injuring thirty people.

The car was going down Smith's mili hill, one of the steepest in this part of the country, on its way to Full River, when one of the trucks broke and the car was thrown from the rails. It ploughed its way across the road, tearing up stones and dirt in its flight, and finally, crashing into a stout wood fence, was demolished.

The passengers were thrown in every direction. The shock overturned the trucks and undergearing and several persons were pinned to the earth. A score more persons lay on the road, in the ditch and on the side of the road, covered with blood and dirt. The fatally injured are: John J. Ryan, of New Bedford, Mass., and Delia Renivellard, of Woonsocket,

Spaniards Joining the Insurgents. TAMPA, Fla , June 24.-Spanish papers just arrived confirm the report that Major Castellas, commanding the regiment of Camajuani, containing 400 Spanish vol-unteers, has joined the insurgents. Another band of seventeen Spanish volunteers in Camajuani district, under command of Ele Emelio Perez, have also joined the insurgents. Perez was an official of the city of Camajuani. Passengers bring reports that on Thursday in a battle at Coalitas, in the province of Santiago, Captain Miguel Campos, son of Martinez Campos, was killed. Generals Roloff and Sanchez had an engagement with the Spanish forces in Las Villas on Wednesday. Seventy Spaniards were killed, while the Cuban losses were but

The St Louis Disabled.

NEW YORK, June 24 -The new American liner St. Louis met with an accident last Tuesday, June 18, when in about latitude 46.58, longitude 35.58. Some part of the steering apparatus cracked and it was necessary to use it with the utmost caution and discretion. Consequently the vessel was steered with her twin screws as far as practicable, until the lightship was reached, when the rudder was again called into play. The total distance traversed was 3,123 miles, and the time of passage 7 days, 7 hours and 11 minutes.

"Squire" McMullen Nearly Drowned. ATLANTIC CITY, June 24,-"Squire" William McMullen, a well known Philadelphia politician, had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday by the capsizing of a launch from which he and a colored body servant were fishing. The body servant could not swim, and the "squire" made a desperate struggle to save him. Both were exhausted and ready to sink for the last time when a nearby yacht rescued them.

A Murderer's Confession.

ALBANY, June 24.-George Smith, 28 years of age, a farm hand of Eagle Mills, N. Y., was arrested yesterday at Pottstown, Rensselaer county, by Detectives Nolan and McCann. Smith confessed that while drunk. June 15, he enticed Philip Richtmyer, a farm hand, aged 70, to a lonely spot in the west bounds of this this city, and without a quarrel shot and killed and robbed him.

Explosion at a Powder Mill.

HAZLETON, Pa., June 24.—Fisher's Powder mills, at Krebbs Station, two miles this side of Catawissa, exploded yesterday morning. Fortunately there were no workmen in the mills, and no one was hurt. DEATH ON THE LAKE Serious Accident to an Excursion Steamer from Chicago.

WAS RACING WITH A RIVAL BOAT.

As a Result a Steam Valve Exploded and Passengers and Crew Were Engulfed in Clouds of Steam-A Scene of Wildest Excitement.

CHICAGO, June 24.—By the explosion of steam valve in the whaleback steamer Christopher Columbus, off Waukeegan Saturday night, two men were killed and thirteen were dangerously or painfully scalded. The dead are: Frank Wilson, coal passer, and E. J. Steit, fireman.

It was the homeward run of the whaleback of the early summer excursion to Milwaukee, and about 150 souls were aboard. Half a mile in the boat's wake ploughed the rival excursion steamer, the Virginia, which, clearing the harbor some fifteen minutes later, had on every pound of steam possible to overtake her competitor. On the outward run the Virginia had not only held the advantage, but doubled it, and the crew of the whaleback were determined that they should not be passed. As the sun went down the boats pushed ahead neck and neck, not more than 300 yards apart. The decks and promenades of both steamers were black with passengers. The Virginia surged ahead

Word passed from the engine room of the Christopher Columbus that the rival boat should be allowed to gain half a mile on the whaleback, and then steam was to berun up and the situation would be changed before reaching the Chicago har-bor. Scores went below to watch the machinery, and some grew anxious. Judge Grosseup and his party, who were sitting aft, deserted their seats and stood forward under the bridge.

Those watching the gauge said that the pressure was exceeding the limit to which the bollers were adjusted. From 132 pounds pressure the steam had run up to 177 pounds and was still rising.

Suddenly there was a shock of explosion. The steam valve in a six inch connecting pipe over the starboard battery of the three boilers had blown out. Down in the hold six firemen and a waterman found themselves enveloped in a scalding mist so thick one could not see his hand. When they tried to make the ladder they jammed against the heated oven doors. In their frenzy they fell over one another and embraced the slight chance of escape offered. The blinding vapor made help impossible. The steam crowded everywhere. It was instantly in every compartment. In the main saloon 150 persons seated about or reclining were suddenly seized with panic. It was increased by all lights going out. The passengers rushed to the decks. The frightened people. Many believed the vessel was sinking. A score or more of women who had inhaled steam swooned, and in the excitement their friends feared they had been overcome by breathing the deadly vapor.

On the foredeck there was confusion. Every one turned to Judge Grosscup as one in authority. "I will go below and learn the facts," said the judge to his party. "And you can be ready with life preservers in case it is serious.

While the judge was gone several gen tlemen began to drag out life preservers and pile them up conveniently. The scalded men were brought up to the cabin as soon as possible, and several surgeons who were on board did all possible to alleviate their sufferings.

For three hours the whaleback lay getting up steam for resuming the journey. It was found that one battery of three boilers had been made useless, but the other was cut off from it, and at 11 o'clock there was enough pressure to start the engines. The boat finally reached her dock in Chicago at 6:15 a. m., with a pretty badly scared lot of passengers. One of the firemen says that steam was up to 130 pounds before the blow out occurred. The whalehack company officials were greatly disturbed over the disaster, but denied emphatically today that the boat had been racing.

Murdered on the Highway. RALEIGH, N. C., June 24.-In Madison county Henry Holcombe, riding horseback with a woman behind him, met his nephew, Tom Chandler, who was in a wagon with two women. Holcombe playfully struck with his hat at Chandler, who caught Holcombe by the leg in the same spirit. Holcombe without a word drew his revolver and shot Chandler, the ball passing through his mouth and lodging in the back of his head. Chandler is dead. Holcombe escaped.

A Baptist Deacon Stage Robber.

UKIAH, Cal., June 21.-David Oldham, a deacon in the Baptist church, has been arrested for robbing the Mendocino stage a week ago. He had as an accomplice a man named Hilton, who has confessed, implicating Oldham. The robbers secured $1,000, and the officers have recovered Hitton's share. Oldham stood well in the community, and the plan was for him to swear to an alibi for Hilton in case the latter was suspected.

HASTINGS' VETO POWER May be Used on the Religious Garb and Quay County Bitle.

HARBISDURG. June 24—The religious garb bill will be taken up this week by Governor Hastings for final consideration. This measure has excited more interest than any other passed by the recent legislature. It is advocated by the patriotic societies, and strong pressure is being brought to bear upon the governor by these organizations to have the bill become a law. The governor was at first inclined to favor the proposition, but the opposition to it from the Mennonites and Dankards is so pronounced that it is practically settled that he will veto it. These people claim, that if the bill should become a law it would force their children out of the public schools because of the simple dress which they wear. It is believed that the governor will take the broad ground that the bill is unconstitutional because it discriminates against certain religious sects. The Quay county bill is also in danger of being vetoed. The general objection is that within the next twenty years the coal lands in the territory in Schuylkill and Luzerne counties, out of which it is proposed to create the new county, will be outworked, and that the large population will be materially decreased. The governor's friends also say that the population in the proposed county is made up principally of foreigners, of whom not more than 10 per cent, pay taxes. When the mines are abandoned these people will drut to other localities, and the burdens of the county government will fall upon the agricultural classes.

OMARA, June 24 - The dispatch of Wednesday announcing the revocation by Mgr. Satolli of the order of Bishop Bonacum, dispensing with the services of Father Fitzgerald, of South Auburn, and Father Murphy, of Tecumseh, is confirmed by the bishop. In a letter to these elergymen dated June 15 Bishop Bonacum recalls the order, but supplements it with another invalidating the priestly functions at noon July 15 unless they comply with certain conditions of a financed nature. Should they refuse compliance with the conditions imposed, the bishop says that he will take proper steps to remove them. The priests replied to the letter by demanding a retraction within five days, otherwise they will institute action against Bishop Bonacum in the papal court at Washington. An important point in the letter of the bishop is a reference to the propuganda which indicates his purpose of ignoring the apostolic court. Two Drowned in Marvey's Lake. . WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 24.-Louis McCarthy, aged 13 years, and Bow Hardng, his consin, aged 2), were drowned in Harvey's Lake yesterday morning under peculiar circumstances. They had been horseback riding and drove their horses into the lake to water them. McCarthy's horse became frightened when in the water and threw its rider. McCarthy could not swim, and Harding, hearing his cries for help, dismounted and went to his rescue. McCarthy was the heavier man of the two and held on to his cousin with a death grip, from which Harding was unable to release hunself. Before assistance could arrive both men sank in ten feet of water. Their bodies were re-

Walking Delegates Ordered Out of Town.

New Brunswick, N. J., June 24.-Two walking delegates from New York, members of a hat and cap workers' union, were ordered out of this city by Chief of Police Harding. A. Simmonson had trouble with his workmen, which was due to the interference of the walking delegates. Simmonson came to this city about a month ago to establish a branch. The delegates followed him. The local board of trade has agreed to stand by Simmonson, and the outcome of the trouble will be awaited with interest.

Bank Robbers Still at Large.

DULUTH, Minn, June 24 -A party of officers came up with the Ramy Lake bank robbers near Crane Like, not far from the Canadian boundary After a lively exchange of shots the robbers escaped, and the chase was then abandoned. The officials of Canada have been notified to look out for the men. Cashier Butler, who was held up by the two men. arrived in Duluth to consult with the authorities in regard to the robbery.

No Protest Against Satolli,

WASHINGTON, June 24. - An eminent Catholic ecclesiastic says of the recent Rome cable to the London Standard that Cardinal Gibbons had presented to the pope a protest of the American bishops against the continuance of Mgr. Satolli's mission in the United States: "The American bishops have made no such protest, and the statement that Cardinal Gibbons or any one else is its bearer is an unqualified falsehood."

A Severe Sentence Awaits Him.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24 - Alonzo J. Whitman, ex-mayor of Duluth, convicted of forgery in the superior court, will be sentenced next Friday. His sentence will undoubtedly be severe, as Judge Wallace, before whom Whitman was tried, is noted for severity to those convicted of felony. Whitman is confined in the county jail Several other charges of forgery are pending against him.

ROSEBERY'S SUCCESSOR

Lord Salisbury to be Great Britain's Next Premier.

PARLIAMENT MUST BE DISSOLVED

Before the Conservative Leader Will Agree to Assume the Duties of the Premiership - The Irish and Scotch Members Uneasy and Dissutisfied.

LONDON, June 24 .- The outcome of the deliberations of the cabinet in consequence of the adverse vote in the house of commons on Friday is that Lord Rosebery. the prime minister, tendered his resignation to the queen. Her majesty last evening summoned Lord Salisbury, the leader of the Conservative parcy, to Windsor in connection with the formation of a Conservative ministry. Lord Salisbury did not receive his summons until too late to go to Windsor last night, but he went early this morning. It is understood that the Marquis of Sallsbury only agrees to form a cabinet on condition that the parliament is dissolved. He will insist that the government, before yielding the seals, shall pass a vote of an amount necessary for the expenditures for two months, to enable a general election to be held. The Conservaatives will thus be in a position of attack instead of defense. Nothing is known regarding the personnel of the new ministry, but complete harmony exists between the Liberal-Unionists and Conservatives.

The Irish members are extremely nus. easy and dissatisfied. They state that after acting for three years as the strongest arm of the government, they are deeply concerned at the sudden ending of the govsrument without passing any of the principal Irish measures. Not only has home rule not progressed, but the measure conserning the Christian brothers, the county council bill, which reached a second reading, the grand jury bill and the proposal to extend the power of guardians regarding laborers' cottages were all lost. The only Irish measure now likely to be passed is Mr. Healy's municipal franchise bill, which has gone to the house of lords.

The Liberal Scotch members are also sore. Mr. James G. Weir, member for Ross and Cromarty, communicated with Lord Rosebery yesterday, urging him not to dissolve parliament until the measure extending the benefit of the crofters' act to Highland tenants should have been Lord Rosebery rose early yesterday, and attended St George's chapel before breakfast. He then strolled through the grounds alone till 10 o'clock, when he went to Frogmore, where the queen was breakfasting with the Princess Beatrice and Prince Christian. He then attended service at Frogmore Mausoleum with the queen and family, after which he had a private audience with the queen. A number of dispatches were received and opened by the queen. Lord Rosebery returned to the castle for lunch, and returned to town in the atternoon. He held a consultation with Mr. Asquith, the home secretary, Lord Tweedmouth, lord of the privy seal, and Mr Arnold Morley, postmaster general, in Downing street, immediately on his return.

Lord Rosebery conferred with Sir William Harcourt later in the evening, and a five line whip was issued calling upon the Liberals to be in attendance at the house of commons at 3 o'clock this afternoon, when it is expected that Sir William Harcourt will make the official announcement.

The effect of the cabinet decision is more marked upon the whips and officials than upon the cabinet ministers. Lord Rosebery, on his return to town, looked decidedly sprightly, and Lord Tweedmouth, Mr. Morley and Sir William Harcourt were in a jocular mood. Earl Rosebery was offered the office of prime minister by the queen on March 3, 1894, Mr. Gladstone having offered his resignation on account of failing eyesight. Lord Rosebery had occupied the position of foreign secretary in Mr. Gladstone's cabinet, and had been prominently considered for ten years past as the probable successor to Mr. Gladstone in the leadership of the Liberal party when the time for the retirement of that gentleman should come. About the only objection urged against his appointment as promier was that the leader of the party should be a member of the house of commons, and that the party cannot be managed from the house of tords. Lord Rosebery, upon assuming the premiership, took the place of first lord of the treasury in the cabinet, and called the Earl of Kimberley to succeed himself as foreign secretary. The leadership in the house of commons was entrusted to Sir William Vernon Harcourt, who retained his place in the cabinet as chancellor of the exchequer.

No Sailors Seriously Injured.

WASHINGTON, June 24 .- Secretary Herbert received a cablegram from Admiral Kirkland, at Kiel, stating that none of the sailors had been seriously injured by the explosion on the launch of the cruiser San Francisco, and that all were on duty again. The admiral did not give the names of the injured, evidently regarding the subject too triffing for details.

TO DRAIN NEW ORLEANS. The City Considering a Vast Plan Which Will Cost $8,000,000.

New Orleans is considering plans for a system of canals, pumps and reservoirs to drain the entire territory on which the city is located. The work will cost $3,000,000, and will require five years for completion. The plans were drawn by General Rudolph Herring, the well known expert in municipal engineering, after a year's study of the topography of the country and a careful survey of the proposed canals.

Whether the system will be adopted by the city and constructed as planned has not been determined, but the leading business men of the place are heartily in favor of beginning the work at once. It is proposed to drain the city into Lakes Borgue and Pontchartrain, instead of into the Mississippi river, as the level of the city is so low that river drainage will always be unsatisfactory.

Eight steam pumps will be required to force the water into the lakes, and by this means it is expected to keep the water in the main canals at a low level during the heaviest rainstorms. In advocating his system General Herring said that the most approved plans of recent times and been studied with a view to bringing into play all their successful features to be applied to the un usual conditions relative to the land on which New Orleans is built; that it will be a grand auxiliary to the present scheme of sewerage; that it will drain every part of the city thoroughly, rendering every foot of it habitable and free from the overflows which characterize it now; that it will consequently build up the city and put it on a par as a residence city with any place in the country.—New York Post.

CRAZED BY RELIGION.

One Claims to Be a Spirit, and Another Wishes to Kill It.

An entire family in Cleveland has gone daft on religion. This discovery was made by a police lieutenant today. The members of the family include Henry Buchwold, the father, Charlotte Buchwold, his wife, and two grown daughters, Emma and Eva, and three small children.

The adults of the family are adherents of the Spiritualistic faith, and for more than a week past have been locked in their home, on Beaver street, holding wildly insane spiritualistic seances. One of the daughters is laboring under the hallucination that she is a spirit, and another member of the family that the spirit must die.

The spirit was perfectly willing to die, sacrificed, but the arrival of the sheriff's officers prevented them from carrying out their insane ideas.-Cincinnati Enquirer.

June Notes From Billville.

We take watermelons on subscription and also on principle.

We recently asked a railroad manager for a free pass, but instead he sent us a pair of shoes. There is a good deal of humor about these railroad managers.

Our farmers are giving considerable attention to stockraising now. Let them all bear in mind the fact that we are still prepared to take a limited number of cows on subscription. We did not attend the dedication ceremonies in Chicago. We have not visited the Windy City since we walked home from the World's fair.

We recently applied to the authorities for a veteran's pension, but it was discovered that we are only a colonel by birth, and so we're still needing groceries.—Atlanta Constitution.

Fox Safe Among Sheep.

An Amwell township, Washington county, man tells this story: He witnessed a fox chase near his home not long ago that illustrates the cuming of the fox. Several hounds were pursuing him, and when they began to press him closely the fox ran into the middle of a large flock of sheep. The dogs circled around the field several times, and then retired in disgust. The fox remained with his protectors until satisfied there was no danger, and then started out boldly for his home. The dogs were well trained and did not molest the sheep.—Philadelphia Times.

Wishes Evil That Good May Result. A Bridgeport (Conn.) clergyman recently preached a sermon in which he thanked God that there had been frost enough to destroy the apple blossoms in that section, and trusted that it would also destroy every apple blossom throughout the length and breadth of the land. This would destroy the apple crop, he argued, and consequently there would be no cider, and the cause of temperance would be benefited .- New York Tribune.

Singularly enough, iridium, though a metal of such comparative rarity, is said to be a source of no small trouble in the operations of our mints, on account of the difficulty experienced there in separating it from gold bullion. Practically, as is well known, this metal is utilized to some extent for making instruments of delicacy which require to possess the property of not corroding, and is obtained from iridosmine, a natural alloy of iridium, osmium, rhodium, platinum and ruthenium, an extraordinarily white mixture of rare metals, much of it being found in washing for gold in the beach sands of Oregon, and it resists the action of all single acids. In its use for tipping gold pens, in which it is specially serviceable, the grains of it, which are flat, like gold dust, are picked out with magnifying glasses.-New York

Not Acquainted.

It was not entirely a serious occasion at Oakwoods cemetery Thursday. Some little scintillations of humor crept out among the solemn observances. Following is a sample: A lady searching for the lot where friends were buried accosted an old Irishman whose general appearance might lead one to imagine he was familiar with the locality.

"Can you direct me to lot so and so?" "No, mum," was the reply. "I don't live here."—Chicago Tribune.

Funny, ien't it? If it were not that some people are afraid of two or three men down our way we would make our end of the city look like a "Greater Middletown" within three months. We are doing considerable in | fect on all real estate transfers in the that line nevertheless, but it is harder, of future. and objecting. There were men who opposed the Eric Road because it would destroy team ing. Another thought electric lights in Middietown might make people stumble over the shadows Another said if they changed the name of "Canal street" to the old musical Indian name of Wawayandz avenue, some or his friends couldn't spell it. Another wanted one of the church spires taken down for fear it would fall. Another said if people would do less washing and measure the water they used. Middletown would not need any more.

Richmond Hill is not backed by narrow gauged men. Wide streets appropriately named, 800 shade trees, 100 lamp posts, extra sized building lots, easy terms; in fact, with an abiding conviction and faith in the greater Middletown, we offer to-day to home-seekers the greatest opportunity in years. We have helped over twenty persons to build hemes in the last three months, and we are still "in the

A Pleasant Summer Mome-Effects of the Brought-Boat Trips Bown the Belaware-Norwich's Church Fightsuit to set Aside a Beed,

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY. -J. F. Wood, #no resides three miles south of the Rockland station, has gone into the summer boarding business on an extensive scale. He recently put in his house an entire carload of furniture. This is one of the many fine summer resorts along the O. and W., and those who are fortunate exough to stop there will go away satisfied.

-The drought has been broken, but it got in its work to a fearful extent up this way on the mowing lands for the temporary organization. Conand pastures. In times like these it seems too bad that the days of miracles are past and the rain clouds no longer pay attention to the voice of living man. The American farmers could well afford to keep a few old prophets on hand all the year round provided they could, as of old, bring rain just when it was needed.

-"Billy" Lawrence, of Chester, has been up this way fishing. He and some others started down the river in a boat from Rockland. A pleasant trip can be made in this way when the water is high enough, but with the water at its present height it is hard work to drag a boat over the shallow rifts. With the water up to a rafting freshet and a boat sufficiently large to carry a dozen persons the trip can be made from Livingston Manor to Port Jervis in three days or less.

-It is a question not easily solved which has been the most productive of Ill feeling, the soldiers' monument at Monticello, or the Baptist Church at Norwich. The Norwich muddle is in full bleom just now and the members are making up faces at each other like a lot of pirates. If there is any "peace on earth, good will to men," in this Norwich church fight outsiders fail to see it. As it is being conducted it is a disgrace to the name of Christ, and furnishes material for unbelievers to laugh at.

-The is a case now in the Suilivan County Courts, the like of which was never heard of before. It is known as Sprague vs. Cochran, and is brought to set aside the deed given by W. B. Cochran to the purchasers of a portion of the land that was not covered by the mortgage in the celebrated and much litigated Cochran & Appley property. This piece of land was not included in the mortgage at the time the mortgage was given, but Referee Carr, of Port Jervis, and the court held that as it was intended to be included it must be held. The case now in court is to set aside and make void the deed held by the third party. If the suit is successful would-be purchasers of real estate must be very careful in the future, as there may be something behind the records in the Clerk's office that they cannot see. The case will be watched with great deal of interest and whatever the result may be, it will have a telling ef-

ponents of Senator Blackburn. Louisville. June 24 -Generals Hardin and Clay, leading candidates for the gubernatorial nomination at the Democratic state convention tomorrow, and all the other candidates who have been here some days, were joined yesterday by many of the delegates, among the latter being Senater Joe Blackburn, who is working for the chairmanship of the committee on resolutions Congressman McCreary aspires to the same chairmanship. The all absorbing topic is the resolution on the silver question. The committee on resolutions will consist of one member from each of the eleven congressional districts and two members-at-large appointed by the chairman of the convention. For this reason there is more contest than ever gressmen W. J. Stone and Albert S. Berry are most prominently mentioned for chairman, but neither the Clay nor the Hardin men will name their favorites for chair-

Although Clay is called the gold candidate and Hardin the silver candidate, yet those lines are not strictly drawn on them, as are the lines of those for and against the administration. Mr. Van Zenden, Carlisle's private secretary, and Scott Nesbitt, the new appointment clerk, are here, and they were followed from Washington by ex-Congressman Phil B. Thompson, who is enthusiastic for Senator Blackburn as chairman of the committee on resolutions.

Aside from the silver issue there is a bitter fight between the friends of Secretary Carlisle and Senator Blackburn, in which Senators Lindsay, Buckner, Mc-Creary and other leaders are with Black-

AFFAIRS IN THE ORIENT.

Japan Tiring of the Effort to Civilize the Coreans.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24 - The steamer Coptic arrived last night bringing the following advices from Yokohama, June 7: Although no international complications are apprehended on Formosa's account the latest Corean developments are justly regarded with grave anxiety. Count Inony, the Japanese representative at Seoul, has been recalled ostensibly to take part in consultations as to the future policy of Japan, but really, it is believed, to discuss the question of abandoning entirely the attempts to introduce social and political reforms into the corrupt monarchy.

Unless Count Inony is permitted to employ forcible means, his chances of gaining ascendency are small. From the beginning Japan has declared her determination to act only as a friendly advisor to Corea, and any attempt to impose her authority by violence would be inconsistent with her professions and her true purpose She hoped that the feeble country could be made capable of self government on civilized principles. She now finds that it wishes for nothing but to be left to its old misrule, and the outlook is full of difficulties. If the Japanese government gives up its task it leaves Corea at the mercy of Russia

Tai Won Kun's grandson, recently banished for treason and complicity in murder, is reported to have died at his place of exile. Public opinion credits the queen of Corea with having caused him to be assassinated.

Sunday Riot in a Penitentiary. LINCOLN, Neb. June 24 .- A riot occurred yesterday among the convicts of the state penitentiary. The guards had thrown open a tier of cells to let a squad out, when immediately an Italian convict named Scalesi dashed out, armed with a stiletto which he had made of scrap iron. and savagely attacked a fellow convict named Sullivan Scalesi fought like a demon, but he was worsted by Sullivan, who is a powerful man The Italian then turned on a negro named Howard, who adroitly escaped the knife. Scalesi lunged at Costello, a guard, and cut him across the stomach, though not seriously. At this juncture all the liberated convicts and the guards joined in the melee. Every man who harbored a grudge against another took advantage of the opportunity to 'get even' Three convicts attacked the Italian, who extricated himself and fled. He soon ran afoul of Guard Dan Athen, who struck him on the head with a loaded cane, cutting a deep gash. The Italian was removed to the hospital.

Picked Up an Exploding Bomb.

NEW YORK, June 24 -Some one placed a bomb on the Speedway yesterday afternoon. Frank Emerson, 11 years old, and his brother Joseph Emerson, 13 years old, colored, of Brooklyn, picked it up and it exploded. It created a stampede on Speedway and several horses ran away. None of the occupants of the vehicles were injured, but Joseph Emerson, who picked up the bomb, had all the fingers on one of his hands blown off. The reason for the placing of the bomb on the Speedway is a mystery.

New York's Organized Firebugs. New York, June 24 -Mr Vernon M. MONDAY, JUNE 24, 1895,

Crop reports are more encouraging than for the past few weeks. The weather all through the West has been most favorable, and there is every prospect of a bountiful corn erop and this erop is of chief importance to the railroads. Whatever injury was done to wheat by late frosts is likely to be more than compensated for by better prices.

The small boy ought to be able to make his Fourth of July pennies buy a great deal more noise, this year, than ever before. The Wilson tariff cut the duty on firecrackers in half and they were never so cheap as they are this year. The youngster who has twice as much Fourth of July for his money as ever he had before will be given an object lesson in the blessings of low customs duties that he ought never to forget.

The Philadelphia Record, writing of the business revival and the failure of the predictions that lower duties would ruin American industries.

"Manufacturers in all departments of industry hail the gladsome dawn of a new industrial epoch; and yet there are crowds of politicians assembled in Cleveland who dream of a restoration of McKinleyism. They have only to look around in the centres of industrial activity to convince themselves that the tariff is a dead issue and a lost cause. The manufacturers and workingmen of the United States will not tolerate any party that shall threaten in any way to interrupt the era of prosperity by agitation of the tariff; and the sooner the Republican politicians shall recognize this the better it will be for their party and for the country."

When the Press attempts to defend and excuse the outrageously large city tax levy it undertakes a task so far beyond its abilities that we ale not surprised to see it floundering its throat to end its sufferings, and swashbucklering; but we really expected something a little better than its puny whine that "the Argus is real mean" because it said that it is no credit to our city to spend thousands of dollars in extravagance and folly and refuse a few hundred dollars to a worthy charity. That imputation of meanness stays our pen. It's too risky to discuss public questions with a paper whose next argument is likely to be "you can't play in our yard."

We ture, therefore, from the city tax levy to a matter which we feel sure the esteemed Press will admit we refer to not in "meanness" but in sorrow and loving kindness,-Its use of the word "demagogery." How it grates on our sensitive ears, accustomed only to English, pure and undefiled, and as it is written in the dictionaries. Were there not enough abusive epithets in the English language without inventing this monstrosity to fling at us?

He aroused his mother, who was almost suffocated with smoke, and it was with great difficulty that they escaped.

The building and contents were destroyed. The fire was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary.

Unequal to Family Duties--No Appetite

Hood's Sarsaparilla Gave Strength and Courage to Work. "I was in such condition I could not walk even about the house to attend to household duties and care for my children and family. I did not have the strengthof a child. I was treated by several physicians, who pronounced my trouble Scroiula and Female Weakness. I could eat only a slice of bread and drink a cup of tea, three times a day. Sometimes I could stand Mrs. John Hase a soft boiled egg for dinner. I became reduced to skin and bones; at last they had to draw me about the house seated in a rocking chair. I was in a terrible state when my husband, having noticed advertisements of Hood's

The Sunday School's Flower Festival-Raccalaurente Sermon.

There was a very happy service at Grace Church, yesterday, when the Sunday School held its annual flower festival. The whole school assembled in the choir room at 3 o clock and boye, marched into the church through the front entrance. In the procession were twenty-four little girls carrying bouquets which were arranged on the altar in vaees d nated by the superintendent, Mr. James E. Horton. Tae flowers were afterwards presented to Thrall Hospital with the vases by the same yourg ladies. During the service Mr. Frank Ogdec, who, when Mr. Miller was organist, was the leading soprano in Grace Church, sang a very charming solo appriate to the occasion. The rector gave an address on "The World's First Garden-

At the evening service the Misses Porter's school attended for the baccalaureate sermon, which was on the subject of "The Coming woman."

A BICYCLE ACCIDENT-

Newburgh's Steep Hills Too Much for Middletown Wheelmen.

Messrs, C. E. Ghee, Harry Bryant and Will Brower rode to Newburgh on their wheels, yeste day morning, to join the committee from Phœnix Engine Co., of which they are members. In the afternoon, several members of Phœnix joined a party on a bicycle trip about the city, Mr. A. B. Carpenter, one of the committee, riding Mr. Ghee's wheel.

In going down one of the many steep hills which have made Newburgh famous. Mr. Brower lost control of his wheel and ran into Mr. Carpenter, breaking a number of spokes in the latter's wheel, and otherwise damaging both machines.

Mr. Brower was thrown violently to the ground and received painful injuries to one wrist and knee. He came home by train.

THE HOGAN BOILER DOES NOT SCALE

Examined After Six Months' Continuous Run, the Boiler at the Works Is Found to Be Absolutely Free from Scale or Indications of Scale.

The Hogan water tube boiler, at the Hogan Boiler Works, in this city, was shut down, Saturday, for the first time since its erection, after a continuous run of six months.

The efficiency of this boiler had not lessened in the least, was, in fact, just as high up to the hour the fire was extinguished as it was in the hours it was first put at work.

The boiler was shut down for the purpose of instituting an examination of its interior, in especial the steam tubes and the drums, so that it might at once and for all time be settled as to whether the claim of its inventor, that it could be operated for an indefinite period without taking on scale, was or was not well made.

The high efficiency which the boiler had maintained throughout the six months' run was substantial evidence that Mr. Hogan's claim was well founded, as simultaneously with the formation of scale all boilers rapidly lose in efficiency.

When the boiler was opened not only was there no scale found in the tubes or in the drums, but, remarkable to state, the interior surfaces of these vital parts were found to be as free from foreign substances as they were when they were first put at

Engineers and steam users know, much better than the public, the momentous importance of this property of the Hogan boiler.

Scale shortens the life of boilers; increases the cost of running the

They carried with them a hand--Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Boyd will some banquet lamp and brass and onyx table. A plate suspended from the table bore the following inscrip-

> Presented to Highland Engine Co. No. 3, of Newburgh, N. Y, PHENIX ENGINE Co., No. 4, cr. iddletown, N. Y., June 22nd, 1895.

Oct. 12, '93. — Oct 17 and 18, '94.:

The Highlands were guests of Phonix in 1893 and the latter company were the Highlands guests Oct. 17th and 18th, 1894, during the tournament of the Newburgh Fire Department. On this occasion a strong fraternal feeling and many personal friendships were formed and the Prænix boys sought to show their good will by the presentation on Saturday.

The committee was met at the depot by a delegation of Highlands and taken to the engine house in a special car. The members of the company were assembled to meet them and prepared to entertain them as only firemen know how to do.

When the company and guests had assembled in the pactors Vice-President Gillen, of Phoenix, made a brief speech recalling the pleasant intercourse of the two companies and the fact that he had neen appointed a committee to procure some token to show the good will of his company to Highlands and introduced Presi dent Iseman, who in one of his most happy speeches presented the lamp and table in behalf of Phœnix.

Foreman Charles McCleary in a few remarks introduced Rev. Mr Wilson, chaplain of Highlance, who in a very appropriate and pleasing address accepted the gift of Præ ix.

Following the speech making a banquet was served, after which the Highland boys took the visitors in hand and entertained them so well that they did not return home until Sunday evening.

The Promix boys are loud in their sises of the hospitality of the scale makes the boiler dangerous. Newburgh firemen, who did every-scale, more than any other one thing, thing possible to make their right to thing possible to make their visit to the Hillside City a pleasant one and in which they succeeded even beyoud their expectations.

COLUMBIAS VS. WALDEN.

The Champions of Orange Shut out the

The Columbia base ball club of this city, went to Walden Saturday, to tackle the champions of Orange County. They returned somewhat creatfaller, having been shut out by a score of 10 to 0.

The boys claim however that the Umpire was "agin em," and no matter how well they played, there was no show for them. They expect po sympathy however, on account of kiing a rainst the u noire, for kicki g is resorted to so often to excuse an ignominious defeat.

The Walders have planted their ourfield in potatoes, hoping to secure sufficient revenue from the crop to pay the expenses of the season, and as result the Columbias' fielders who are not accustomed to chase flies on ploughed ground or over potatoe hills, were not in it with the granger nine. They point to the score below as a proof that the potatoe patch caused their defeat.

The Walders will play a return game in about two weeks, when the Columbias hope to do better. Fol-

A Boy Struck by a Trolley Car-On wheels to the Boat Race-Boys' Brigade Officers Installed-Sunday Excurstonists-Stake Money Not Paid-Other

From Our Regular Correspondent.

-The four-year-old son of Mr. R. H. Wood, the grocer, met with quite a serious accident, Saturday afternoon, by being struck by a trolley car. He was sitting on the track at the junction of Tusten avenue and Spring street, engaged in picking flowers, and did not observe the approach of a trolley car until it was nearly upon him. He then tried to get out of the way, but was unsuccessful, and the step of the car struck him on the forehead, knocking him down, his head striking the end of a cross-tie. His forehead was quite badly cut and the back of his head received an ugly wound by coming in contact with the tie. His side was also bruised. The motorman claims that he did not see the boy until he was nearly upon him, owing to the high grass along the track He then tried to st p his car, but it was too late to avert the accident. NONA.

Some years ago I passed several weeks at a fishing village on the coast of Brittany. What a hole it was! But how picturesque! A miserable anchorage, for ten boats at the most, a single stony street, which I can compare to nothing better than a mountain torrent. On top of the hill a church, a veritable gothic toy, which stood in the middle of a cemetery from which a magnificent view of the ocean was obtained. Finding myself in the vein for work, I lingered in this out of the way corner until the end of the month of September, which by a rare chance in rainy Finistere, was that year exceptionally mild

But one cannot always compose verses and write, and a walk was my hygiene and my distraction. My most frequent promenade was along the beach, having on my right the bleak and rucky cliffs and on my left the nucovered stretches of sand-an immense desert of sand left bare by the outgoing tide. Two or three times I had exchanged civilities with some custom house officer going his rounds, his gun slung over his shoulder. I was so regular and peaceful a promenader that the sea swallows were no longer afraid of me and hopped in front of me, leaving the print of their star shaped feet in the wet sand. I walked six or eight kilometers a day and returned home with my pockets filled with those dainty shells which are found by burying the hand deep down in the damp pebbles.

This was my favorite excursion. However, on the days when a strong breeze was blowing and the tide was very high I abandoned the seashore, and climbing the village street I strolled along the sandy moor, or else I settled myself with a book on a bench in a corner of the cemetery,' which was sheltered by the church tower from the west

It was a lovely spot, conducive to sadness and revery. The church tower stood out against the autumn sky, over which dark clouds were scuriying. Crows, whose nests were in the steeple, flew out with their hoarse cawing, and the shadow of their large wings glided over the scattered tombstones, almost hidden in the grass.

In the evening more than at any other time, the last rays of the setting sun bathing the sea as though with blood, the ragged branches of the skeleton of an old apple tree silhonetted against the crimson sky and the deep intense stillness of the wild home of the dead flooded my soul with melancholy.

It was on such an evening as I have just described that, wandering among the tombs, many of which bore under the sailor's name this mournful legend, "Died at sea," I read on a new cross the following words, which astonished and puzzled rie: "Here reposes Nona Le Maguet. Died at sea Oct. 26, 1878, at the age of 19."

Died at sea! A young girl! Women hardly ever go out in the fishing boats. How did this happen?

"Well, monsieur," said a gruff voice behind me suddenly, "you are looking at poor Nona's tomb?

I turned around and recognized an old sailor, with a wooden leg, wase good graces I had acquired by the aid of a few glasses of brandy, which I had given him in the taproom at the inn. "Yes," I replied. "But I thought that you fishermen never permitted women to go out with you. I have even been told that they bring you misfortane."

"And that is the truth," responded the good man. "Besides, Nona never went into a boat. Would you like to know how the poor little one died? Well, I will tell you

"First of all, I must tell you that Pierre, her father, was a topman, like myself, and an old comrade. At Bourget, when Admiral La Ronciere raised his golden helmet on the point of his saber, and we flung ourselves, hatchet in hand, on the embattled houses, we marched elbow to elbow, Pierre and I, and it was he who received me in his arms when those cursed Prussians put a ball in my thigh. That same evening in the ambulance at the fort Pierre hold my hand to give me courage while the surgeon ampurated my haib, and he was there at my bedside when the admiral brought me my medal. But those rascally Prussians got the best of us, and we were sent home. I, with my wooden leg, was practically helpless, But Pierre, who was unmanued, hired on board a fishing smack. Very soon afterward his wife died from an intermittent fever, leaving him the care of little None, who was going on 10 years of age. "Naturally while the widower was at sea it was I, his comrade, I, the old bachelor, who cared for the little one. She was a good and pretty child, monsieur, courageons and sweet tempered. We very often went to the rocks at low tide to gather tuitles, shrimps, prawn, and sometimes we were fortunate enough to find a lobster. Ah, but we were good friendst

"This went on for about two years. Nona had made her first communion, grown and shot up like a thistle in the sand But one day the Amelia, Le Magnet's boar, was overtaken in a storm and wrecked. The skipper did not haul in his sail soon enough, and the boat 6'in kon that reef ar can see over

"However, in spite of everything, time is a famous merchant of forget alness, and Nona after a few years appeared to me to become somewhat reconciled. Besides, her grief had not prevented her from growing handsomer and taking a price in herself, and it is not because I loved her like a father, but, upon my honor, she was the freshest and prettiest young girl in the parish. We lived so happily together. We were not rich, to be sure, but we lived, and we enjoyed ourselves all the same. I had my pension and my medal, and then we used to go together to hunt for lobsters in the rocks. The trade is a paying one, and there is only one danger, that of being overtaken by the tide. Ah, unfortunately that was how she met her death, poor little one!

"One day when my rhenmatism confined me to the house she went fishing alone. It was just such a day as today, the sky clear, the wind high. When the rock searchers gathered together with full baskets, they perceived that Nona failed to respond to their calls. There was no possible denbt Great God, she had been delayed and surrounded by the rising tide! She had been drowned! Ah, what a night I passed, monsieur! At my age, yes, a hard hearted man like me, I sobbed like a woman. And the remembrance came to me of the poor child's belief that to go to heaven she must be interred in consecrated ground. Therefore as soon as the tide went down I went to the shore, and, with the others, searched for the body. "And we found poor Nona," continued the old sailor in a trembling voice. "We found her on a rock covered with seaweed, where, knowing that she was going to die, the poor little one had prepared herself for death. Yes, monsieur, she had tied her skirts below the knees with her fichu, through modesty, and with her old idea uppermost had attached herself to the seaweed by her hair, her beautiful black bair, certain that she would thus be found and interred in consecrated ground. And I can say, I, who know what bravery is, that there is perhaps not a man brave enough to do likewise."

The old man was silent. By the last gleam of the twilight I saw two great tears rolling down his weather beaten cheeks. We descended to the village side by side in silence. I was profoundly touched by this simple girl's courage, who, even in the agonies of death, had retained the modesty of her sex and the piety of her race, and before me in the distant immensity, in the solitudes of the heavens and the sea, gleamed out the beacon lights and the stars.

Oh, brave men of the sea! Oh, noble Brittany !-- From the French of Francois Coppe For Romance.

Dickens' Characters.

Not even Dickens, I think, found room for a butcher amid his Babylon of trades. A bailiff he has and eight sheriff's officers, half a dozen beadles and half as many more brokers. The sheriff's officer is, of course, a familiar enough figure from the days of our literary drama.

An ingenious American has compiled a list of Dickens' characters, classified by callings, and it reads like nothing so much as a trades directory. There are architects, auctioneers, bankers, barbers, boarding house keepers, blacksmiths, carpenters, carriers, chandlers, chemists, clerks (a perfect army of them), coachmen, coal merchants, constables, corn chandlers, costumers, detectives, doctors, domestic servants, dry salters, engineers, engine drivers, farmers, fishermen, gamekeepers, grocers, green grocers, haberdashers, hopgrowers, jailers and turnkeys, laborers, lamplighters, lawyers, law stationers, locksmiths, manufacturers, merchants, medical students, money lenders, notaries, hostlers, pawnbrokers, parish clerks, plasterers, porters, postmasters, potboys, reporters, robemakers, saddlers, sailors, sextons, shipwrights, stewards, stokers, stonemusons, sugar bakers, tailors, teachers, tobaccomists, toymakers and merchants, undertakers, watermen, weavers, wharfingers, wheelwrights.

The list might be made longer, but that perhaps is long enough to make you realize how amply provided with trades and tradesmen are the teeming streets of Dickens' imagination. -Macmillan's Magazine

Blood Poison

THE BANE OF HUMAN LIFE, Driven Out of the System by the Use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I was a great sufferer from a most persistent blood disease, none of the various medicines I took being of any help whatever. Hoping that change of climate would benefit me, I went to Cuba, to Florida, and then to Saratoga Springs, where I remained some time drinking the waters. But all was no use. At last, being advised by several friends to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, I began taking it, and very soon favorable results were manifest. To day I consider myself a perfectly healthy man, with a good appetite and not the least trace of my former complaint. To all my friends, and especially young men like myself, I recommend Ayer's Sarsaparilla, it in need of a perfectly reliable blood-purifier." — Jose A. It is Injurious To Stop Suddenly

And don't be imposed upon by buying a remedy that requires you to do so, as it is nothing more than a substitute. In the sudden stoppage of the use of tobacco you must have some stimulant, and in most all cases, the effect of the stimulant, be it opium, morphine, or other opiates, leaves a far worse habit contracted. Ask your druggist about "BACO-CURO." It is purely vegetable. You do not have to stop using tobacco with "BACO-CURO." It will notify you when to stop and your desire for tobacce vill cease. Your system will be as free from nicotine as the day before you took your first chew or smoke. An ironclad written guarantee to a solutely cure the tobacco habit in all its forms, or money refunded.

I am enjoying better health, and consider your "Baco-Curo" the safest, most harmless and relia le remedy for to break the tobacco habit. Yours truly, JOHN RODDEN, Postmaster, Rodden, Ill. Rodden, Ill. Rodden, Ill. Rodden, Ill. Boureka Chemical & Mig. Co., La Crosse, Wis. Dear Sirs—I have used chewing tobacco very extensively the past thirty years I tried so-called "No-To-Bac" and other remedies, but without success, until I beught three boxes of your "Baco-Curo." I continued chewing tobacco while taking the preparation and find that the horrible craving for tobacco has left use, and I consider myself cured. I can fully recommend "Baco-Curo" to any person wishing to break themselves of the tobacco habit. Yours very truly, D. S. Whith.

WHAT MR. KRAEMER SAYS OF "BACO-CURO."

This is to certify that i. F. D. Kraemer, of Atlantic, Iowa, was an invetorate smoker of eigarettes for more than two years.

About eight weeks ago I bought three boxes of "Baco-Curo." I began taking it according to directions, and after taking one and one-half boxes, all the desire for eigarettes loft me, and I have had no desire since.

I can heartily recommend "Baco-Curo" to all who are slaves to the digarette habit or tobacco habit in any form, and are in search of a cure. I had become so under the influence of cigarettes. I could not remember anything; could not study, unless under the influence of the drug, which is death in the end, if kept up.

Ulgarettes are sapping the lives out of more boys and young men to-day, than anything that is known to the world. Boys, before it is too late get some of this remedy that killed the craving for cigarettes in me and save your young life. Restore yourself to manhood. You will feel as though you had escaped an awful doom, and you have, when cured by "Baco-Curo," for you feel like a new being. I never felt better in all my life than at this present writing. I did not know what was the matter with me, until informed by the agont. He told me what was the reason I could not do anything unless under the influence of the death-dealing poison found in cigarettes. I due not believe him at first, until he explained the action on the system.

The world had to be anything unless under the influence of the death-dealing poison found in cigarettes. I due not believe him at first, until he explained the action on the system.

The world had the goods and thank God and all concerned, I am a sound person to-day. Hoping the may reach the unfortunate cigarette.

A Matter of Business. * It is possible, sif, that you may know my errand. The elderly man, who sat in his private office, looked up from his desk as his visitor spoke and shook his head.

"I had thought," replied the other as he dropped into a chair and reached over and selected one of the Havanas from a box on the desk, "that you might have noticed my growing regard for your charming daughter. I was first attracted to her, sir, some two months ago, and the acquaintance which promised so little at first has gradually ripened into love.'

'It has, has it?" replied the older man, feverishly taking up a fountain pen and absentmindedly trying to sign a check with

"Yes, sir," exclaimed his visitor, "it has, indeed. I have seen your daughter, sir, under the most trying circumstances, and never knew her to lose courage. She is the kind of girl that I have, until now, searched for in vain. Her unflagging patience in the face of well nigh insurmountable difficulties, her unvarying good humor, her persistence, are all qualities which, in turn, have appealed to me and inspired a depth of passionate love that, up to this time, I did not dream my nature was capable of. I will, however, pass over the sentimental side and proceed to business. I have come, sir, to ask if you will consider from me a proposal of marriage for the hand of your daughter.'

As he spoke the elderly man had risen, and now stood over him with a dangerous gleam in his eye. "No, sir!" he exclaimed emphatically.

"I will not! Such a proposition is absurd. I wouldn't consider it for a moment." His young and courtly companion arose, and taking up his hat prepared to leave

Very well, sir," he replied loftily as he slipped a circular out of his pocket and handed it to the fair haired typewriter near the door, "I was going to say, in case you had favorably considered my proposal, that I would gladly take a 25 per cent discount off my bill of $200 for teaching your daughter how to ride the bicycle."-Life.

Ten For the Chinese Emperor.

The tea used in the immediate household of the emperor of China is treated with the utmost care. It is raised in a garden surrounded by a wall so that neither man nor beast can get anywhere near the plants. At the time of the harvest, those collecting these leaves must abstain from eating fish so that their breath may not spoil the aroma of the tea. They must bathe three times a day, and in addition to all these precautions, they must wear gloves while picking the tea for the Chinese court.—Philadelphia

A Midnight Prowler Who Flirts, Robs and Makes Love.

A rather remarkable story of a summer burglar, who flirts, robs and then makes love, comes from Cochecton, Sullivan county.

Miss Mamie Fuhr, of New York, who is spending the summer at C. F Stumpt's, glanced out of her window. a few evenings ago, and saw a tall, elderly and well dressed man looking up at the house. She drew back from the window and, joining a fishing party spent the evening on the river, and would have forgetten the incident had it not been for what fol lowed.

After her return to the house Miss Fuhr sat down to read her prayer book and fell asleep. She was awakened by a hand on her shoulder and by the flash of a dark lantern in her face, and she saw that the man who had thrown her a kiss was standing by her side. He demanded her money, and pressing a dirk knife to her throat threatened to kill her if she made an outery. She pretended that she had no money, but he made her open her trunk and took $5 from

After satisfying himself that there was no more money in the room the burglar made the girl clasp her hands. While she held them together he tied her wrists securely.

Picking up the prayer book, the thief held it to the girl's lips and made her swear that she would not tell of the night's occurrence, forcing her to kiss the book after she had repeated the oath he exacted from

Miss Fuhr had began to recover her self possession, but the next promeeding on the part of the invader Rifed her with alarm greater than that she had felt before. Sitting beside her and taking her hands, the thief began to make love to the girl. In her terror she tried to scream, With a warning that if she raised an alarm he would carry out his threat to kill her, the man snatched a towel, bound it tightly over her mouth, and then left the room.

As soon as possible Miss Fuhr gave an alarm, but no trace of the burgiar has been found.

KILLED ON THE SHORT CUT-

Coroner's Inquest in the Case of the Italian Killed at Mountainville.

Coroner Decker empaneled a jury and held an inquest over the remains of the man who was struck by an Erie train at Mountainville, Saturgay afternoon, and who died at Turners an hour afterwards. From papers in his pocket it was learned that his name was Guiseppe Frusproce. Ten dollars in money and naturalization papers, issued at Burfale, in March, 1894, were found on his person.

The evidence of the engineer of the train which struck the unfortunate man was to the effect that the mac, while walking on the bridge heard the train approaching, but seemed Professor and Madame Decoma to Perto be bewildered and although he had room enough to step aside remained standing on the track. The engineer tried to stop, but was unman ran away when he saw his friend struck and nothing has since been heard of him.

The jury returned a verdict of death due to the man's own negligence.

A horse belonging to A. B. Wheeler, which had been founcered, was turned out Friday on the Wright iot on North street, Mr. Wheeler who was leaving town, having arranged to have it taken to the country. This was not done, however, and the poor horse unable to rise, laid upon the ground in the broiling sun of Friday and Saturday, and to add to its misery, several boys amused themselves by pelting with stones and pulling and hauling at the helpless beast.

Some one reported the matter to the police on Saturday, and that night the horse was hauled to the bone yard. Whether if died or was killed to end its sufferings we have not learned.

The Business that They Make for Orange County's Criminal Courts.

The Newburgh Register, writing of the great number of cases considered by the Grard Jury in which tramps were the offenders, says:

They figure in all sorts of crimes from murder to burglary in the third degree. As a grand juror remarked the other day, the situation is be-coming seriou; either the tramp must go or the average citizen must form himself into a vigilance committee of one and do some "wild west work" on his own account when the opportunity offers Said he, "nearly every one of the tramps that have been arrested were old chums. They had met before either in Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Massachusetts or some where else. Rarely have they known the proper name of their companions. Names don't go with them. Not a Dry Sunday in Middletown,

The papers report that New York was extra dry, yesterday. The number of drunken men on the streets of this city, some of whom were very noisy, would seem to indicate that Middletown was not suffering from drouth and that no one who had the price went dry. It's possible, but the lightning flashes were so many not probable, that some of the lage and so intense that it was necessary were imported from Gosher, but most of them seemed to be of home manufacture.

LONG ISLAND LOSING ITS TAIL.

Inroads of the Sea Causing Alarm to Property Owners at Orient Point.

Long Island, which looks on the map like a big fish about to swallow New York city, is apparently being slowly swallowed by the ocean. Portions of its shores have disappeared beneath the waves, and now the northern fork of its huge tail is vanishing. About two miles of Orient point, that formed a sandy beach two years ago, is now under 15 feet of water. The lighthouse on the point was six rods from the sea a few years ago. It has since been toppled over by the sea, and only a small part of the sarrounding beach is visible.

The bluffs on both the sound and the bay side of Orient point have been sinking at the rate of about 10 or 12 feet a year. The same state of affairs is true of Montank point, but there the bluffs jut up so abruptly and so high above the sea that the rising of the water is not so noticeable. A rise of a foot or two on the low shores near Peconic bay will submerge acres of land. Much of the threatened land on Orient point forms fertile farms, and the steady advance of the shore line is causing no small concern to the owners. The water has in several places found its way across a low spot on the point from the sound to the bay. The result will be to ultimately divide the peninsula into a series of small islands, similar to Plum, Little Gull and Great Gull islands, all of which were doubtless once a part of the mainland and were cut off by the rise of the sea. The village of Orient is situated in a particularly narrow and low portion of the pennsula, and the next serious inroad of the ocean will probably occur there. In that case 2,000 acres of land and a village of 1,000 people will have to be abandoned. - New York Sun.

Pirst Bible Printed In America. The Aitken Bible, a copy of which has just been sold in Boston for $300, is claimed to have been the first Bible in the English language ever printed in America. The imprint is as follows: Printed and sold by R. Aitken, at Pope's Head, three doors above the coffee-house in Market-st., MDCCLXXXII. -Philadelphia Ledger.

An Inquisitive Maid.

Mr. Edison, the great electrician, receives many amusing letters. Not long ago he was startled by an epistle from a western damsel asking him if he could not invent an electrical contrivance that would enable her to see the face of her future husland .- Indianapolis Journal.
